AUTUMN LEAVES TO DEFEAT ELASTIC: MISS GOULD LOOKS BEST AT UNION

cannot be overlooked.

Elastic is scheduled to carry 124 pounds Indifferent as the big horse is to weight, it seems as if this should bring him back FINAL WORK FOR a trifle. With but 97 pounds on Autumn Leaves, it seems as though the latter must be conceded best chance for first position. with Elastic and Mattie H. next in order. Footlights Favorite completes the quartet whose members seem to have the best

Alice Turner, who would once have been a strong factor here, is scheduled to make her season's appearance in the race. Mohave seems to have a chance in the afth. He likes a shorter route than on his last race and has nothing particular to beat here. Jerry Hunt and Dr. Kler best look in.

Goo Goo, with five pounds off her last race, is in with a field in the last race where she seems to have a chance. Easter Watters is lightly weighted and his been running was enough of late to get second position, his race behind Trio last Saturday seeming to indicate that he is in pretty fair form.

Tim kitey looks beat in the second event and Bride, who was a "good thing" on two of her appearances last year and who was warmy upped on her first out this season, looks to have a chance. Lila Noel can be selected on the strength of finishing in the middle of her field the last out. None of these, save Tom Klety, has done much for which to give them credit this year.

has done much for which to give them credit this year.

In the 2-year-old races of the card, good battles are promised. In the third, Princess Orna seems to have a year sight shade over Dishabilie, even admitting that the Bennett filly is a wonder in the mudlin the opening race, Preventative may win from Piller and Loyal Stibet.

AT UNION TRACK. A heavy track, possibly a sloppy one, will prevail at Union Park to-day and the horses lightly weighted who are partial to the mud will have much the advanto-day.

There is a world of speed in this race. Cappamore has run two bad races, but may pop up and do the right thing to-day, although she cannot be consistently selected to be in the money. The Rice entry with Sneer and Gus Lanka, may cut a figure and in Doubt may possibly break into the money, although on class and in the money, although on class and such horses as Miss Gould and St.

AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

One of those perplexing handicaps at six furiongs is the feature of the day at the Fair Grounds to-day, an evenly balanced and weighted field being presented in the fourth event. It seems as though at least four of the contestants have an equal chance.

On his good race back of Ice Water and Big Bon, Autumn Leaves seems the best here. The Hellebush entry has a liking for the mud, is in at light weight and should be able to cause trouble in this field, On account of her fondness for muddy going, Mattie H. must also be considered, and Elastic is another contender who cannot be overlooked.

consistent race, and should win the section. Chicago Girl will be lucky if she gets second place. This mure is a slow beginner and causally gets cut off once or more in a race, Jean Gravier will be hard to keep out of the money, although he does not figure to win.

Beecher looks the winner of the 3-year-old event. Chicagra should be a second and will likely be a strenuous contender to the wire. Bear Hunter should be third.

Attila looks best in the fifth race. Bud Emery should be second and Mollie T. third. Just how good the latter mare is will be demonstrated. Her form at Delmar and her ability to win are well known. It is about time for A Convict to win a race, and the sixth looks to be his. Inspector Shea may, however, come to life and cut a predominating figure. Urchin should be third.

SATURDAY STAKE

Hermis on the Way, McChesney to Start and Gold Heels Perfroming in Good Time.

Affairs in World's Fair Handicap circles were busy enough yesterday, announcement that Hermis was to start bewill be greatly favored by the going, but ing received by Secretary Hachmeister, it seems as if the Civili entry has the soon after the notice of the Easterner's arrival had been published in The Republic. His odds instantly went down in the future books.

A telegram was received from Alec Shields, asking that stalls for two horses be reserved. Hermis is coming West in a special car, with a big tank of water along, to prevent sudden change in his drink upsetting his form, and a stable companion is coming with him.

Whether this other equine traveler is some high-class handicap horse or merely a companion to prevent Hermis from be ing unduly nervous is not known to the local officials. But as the dispatch stated that Hermis would remain over after the big stake, it is thought the second mem-ber of the string will be a horse capable of holding his own in the handicaps here.

Immediately following the close of the races yesterday, Gold Heels was sent a mile and one-eighth without being hur-ried. He covered the distance in 2:13%. He pulled up in good shape, but the manried. He covered the distance in 2:12%. He pulled up in good shape, but the manner in which he favored one ankle slightly, easily showed how reports of his lameness got about at one stage. Stable hands, who watched the work, said that this favoring of one foot was a peculiarity of the horse.

Announcement that McChesney was to start in the World's Fair Handicap was followed yesterday by a cut in the price laid against the horse, and the leading future books will hold his odds down to prices approximating £ 3 and even money. Inasmuch as he will be far below this figure when he starts, according to the estimate of a bookmaker at the Fair Grounds, considerable play developed on the big horse yesterday.

No notice was received of what Eastern books may do, but the Weller book will cut his price to-day. The odds against Hermis promptly went down to prices approximating 5 and 4 to 1, when it became definitely known that he was to be a starter, and several wagers were reported at these figures.

Exactly what will be the prevailing prices in the ring next Saturday are extremely uncertain. But Shelby Oliver, who handles the local end of the Weller book, stated that in the case of a certain starter like Hermis, a kig advantage in the odds of a future book over those obtainable at the post could not be expected.

tainable at the post could not be expected.

J. B. Respass, owner of Dick Welles and Bernays, believes that the prices ought to be slightly higher against the Eastern horses, as he thinks he will win with Bernays. He is interested in a future book, but has practically held his own horses out of the bettting throughout always preferring lower odds against them than have other books.

He has offered correspondingly higher odds on one or two of the Eastern horses to balance this, and does not seem to dread the Eastern contingent particularly.

St. Resolute, at 2 to 5, in the first; Tom could s, at 5 to 2 in the fifth, and Bud-welffer, at 8 to 5, in the last race, were the winning favorites at Union track yesterday. They had a walk-away, so to speak, from their helds. The track was sloppy and the starter first away from the barrier had a big advantage and without an exception, was first past the St. Resolute was easily the best and won by a length pulled up. Budweiser won by eight lengths, pulled almost to a canter, and Tom Collins finished eight engths to the good.

Zama, at 4 to 1. in the second race, was an easy winner and received a large play. Equity, the second choice, was cut off be-

Equity, the second choice, was cut off before getting well in motion, but closed a lot of ground and managed to be up in time to get third money.

In the third race Adams got Plantaganet off on the outside, with a running start and was ten lengths in front before the alow-starting field got into motion. Little Margaret made the most of a bad position and finished second.

Rain or Shine, the odds-on favorite in the fourth race, ran a very disappointing race. Bad Penny led from flag fall to finish. Rain or Shine was in a nice position at the head of the stretch, but could not catch Bad Penny.

Tom Collins, the favorite in the fifth race, had it all his own way. Tressillian was an easy second.

The newly made ground in parts of the infield was so slippery as to necessitate the further postponement of the steepischase, which will now likely go over until next Saturday.

King of the Eastern Turf Coming to St. Louis in Special Car, Provided With Sufficient Water and Feed to Last Ten Days-Big Son of MacDuff-Manola Mason Shows Great Improvement Under Sam Hildreth's Handling and Will Remain at Chicago Till Thursday-East Will Back Winner of Suburban for Thousands, While Chicagoans Are Putting the Checks Down on McChesney.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, June 20 .- In charge of Will Shields, his trainer, Hermis, winner of the Suburban Handicap, left Sheepshead Bay for St. Louis at daybreak to-day to try and capture the rich World's Fair Handicap. Arthur Redfern, who will pilot the acknowledged king of the Eastern turf, left this evening, accompanied by his father. Hermis was shipped in a special car provided with a tank and stocked with sufficient water and feed to last ten days. Everything has been done to make the $60,000 beauty of E. R. Thomas as comfortable and homelike as possible. He will travel by easy stages and is due in St. Louis next Wednesday morning. Eastern turfmen are of the opinion that the odds of 10 to 1 to win against Hermis are ridiculously "long" and predict that he will go to the post at a much lower figure if he is in good shape upon his arrival at the World's Fair

That he will be backed for thousands of dollars by the Eastern contingent there is not the shadow of a doubt, provided he is in anything like the form he showed last Thursday in the Suburhan Handicap, when he beat The Pickel rather handliy by two lengths. Hermis will be obliged to carry 170 pounds, having been penalized for winning the Suburban, but even with this impost he will have a large following. MeCHESNEY IS ROUNDING backed to beat Hermis in the struggle for the World's Fair Handicap at St. Louis Saturday, To-day several wagers were laid

THREE FAVORITES WON IN THE MUD

Betting Choices Came Home Ahead in Half the Events on the Fair Grounds Card.

REPUBLIC SELECTIONS

CAPTURE FOUR EVENTS. . Four selections of The Republic . won races at the Fair Grounds yes- ♦ terday, the quartet including King ♦ Fox II, who galloped home by fifteen lengths at odds of 8 to 1.

The first three events were won . by Republic tips, including Limer ick Girl at 7 to 5, King Fox II and Zinda, the latter being at 3 to 2 Gallagher, tipped to win the • fourth race, ran second to Harma- • kis, who was picked for third place. • . Good odds for place could have been obtained against Gallagher. • · The withdrawal of Six Shooter left · Foxy Kane as The Republic's selection in the fifth race, and he came

H+++++++++++ Three favorites crossed the line first at the Fair Grounds yesterday, a muddy track failing to upset form in the various fields. In the first, third and fifth races the betting choice came home a winner. As was predicted in The Republic yesterday, the Hayes stable won both the 2-year-old events with Limerick Girl and Zinda, Although Gallagher made a bold bid for first money in the handicap, he succumbed to Harmakis and Foxy Kane, from the Kettleman stable, came home the winner.

In spite of the slush which turned the

In spite of the siush which turned the track into a circuit of mud, the races were run to their form, the only race on which criticism might be expended being the fourth, in which Harmakis won. In exactly the same going last Saturday, and in an inferior field, he finished last. But the fact that he had fourteen pounds off yesterday was doubtless responsible for this. Harmakis has not won a race with more than 102 pounds, and this fact sent the wise bettors to him yesterday, in spite of his defeat last week. He was held at short odds, the ring evidently being well aware of his objection to high weight. He won the bollowest kind of a race, coming home by himself.

Gallagher, who was claimed by Dan Honig in a selling race last week, but who was afterward transferred back to the Respass stable, was expected to do great things in the mud and ran a fairly creditable race. But he could not pass Harmakis in the stretch and second was the limit of his efforts.

The third race was one of the best beiting contests of the day. Zinda was always favorite and the Hayes filly justified her post by coming home handily. France was second choice and he ran to his notch, although his failure to pull down the long end of the purse was a bitter disappointment to Mickey Shannon, who thought the little gelding could win. King Fox has been meeting with mishaps in his late races, but yesterday he got off nicely, went to the front in a hurry and won by fifteen lengths. He seems a fair sort of colt. Broodler was favorite in the last run, but ran an indifferent race. He was twice kicked at the post by Velos, and this may have affected his performance.

Lynch ran a decidedly improved race over his last out and won handlly. Gasligher got up in time to land second money.

DEAD HEAT AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY. Shoriff Bell and Dainty Finish Together in Terrific Drive. New York, June 20.-Sheriff Bell and

ing stake, one mile and a sixteenth, at eepshead Hay to-day. They were both under a terrific drive in the last sixteenth and finished so close that the judges were unable to separate them. On the run-off Sheriff Bell went to the front on the start and was never headed, winning in a driving finish by one length.

The Rosebud Stake, for 2-year-old fillies, was won by the 5-to-1 shot, Belle Sauvage. Rummerles:

TO HIS OLD-TIME FORM. REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Chicago, June 20,-McChesney is being in Chicago that the great son of McDuff in Chicago that the great son of McDuff will beat the Easterner. The supporters of McChesney asked odds of 10 to 1.

Hermis was shipped from the Eastern track to-day, and McChesney will probably be sent to St. Louis Thursday.

Big Mac is still out at the Harlem track and is rounding into fine shape. The big chestnut looks a different horse from what he appeared when he arrived in Chicago from his long and disastrous stay in the East. It has been claimed all along that Sam Hildreth is the only trainer who understands McChesney and can handle him successfully.

Hildreth is now hard at work fitting him for the big St. Louis handleap, and is confident that when se succes the barrier at the World's Fair City Saturday McChesney will be back to his last year's form.
